

Inside the Minds of Sex Offenders— What Prosecutors and Judges Need to Know

Presenter: Joe Sullivan, PhD of Forensic Training Solutions

Presented by: The Center for Children, Inc.

This course is essential for all prosecutors and judges who must handle cases of child sexual abuse. The role of prosecutors and judges is critical to public safety and justice for the victim and society in this difficult offender population. This course provides learning via instruction and actual offender interviews revealing numerous issues that come before the day to day interaction with sex offenders in the system in these cases. The not so obvious risk factors in different offender profiles will be explored and provide vital information which will help inform the consequences related to the successful prosecution and sentencing of these cases.
